It appears to be true that some difficulties have arises between "border ruffians" (who were the aggressors) and Free State settlers, in one or two counties of Kansas. There may have been some loss of life in the encounters between these two parties, The particulars are not yet definitely ascertained So much of this, however, may be regarded as settled: No war has been made upon the United States Goverament, nor has there been any movement against the institution of Slavery in Missouri. The "civil war" is confined to the soil of Southwestern Kansas, and the parties to it are citizens of that locality. and their assailants from Missouri.

Common Sense rules the mass of the people, whatever the misnamed and misanthrope philosophers may say to the contrary. Show them a good thing; let its merits be clearly demonstrated, and they will not hesitate to give it their must cordial patronage. The masses have already ratified the Judemont of a physician, concerning the virtues of Hestetter's Bisters, as may be seen by the immense quantities of this medicine which are annually sold in every section of the land. It is now recognized as greatly superior to all other remedies yet devised for diseases of the digestive organs, such as diarrhoe, dyspepsia, and for the various fevers that arise from derangement of those portions of the system. Hostetter's name is rapidly becoming a household word, from Maine to Texas, from the shores of the Atlantic to the Pacific. Try the article and be satisfied. Said by all Draggist in the word. No one of the "many ills flosh is heirto" is so pre-alent, so little understood, and so much neglected as costivouess. Often originating in careless, or sedentary habits: it is regarded as a slight disorder of too little consequence to excite anxiety, while in reality it is the procursor and companion of many of the most fatal and dangerous diseases, and unless early cradicated it will bring the sufferer to an untimely grave. Among the lighter evils of which costiveness is the usual attendant are headache, coile, Rhommatiam, foul breath, piles and other of like nature, while a long train of frightful diseases such as malignant fevers, abcesses, dysentary, distributed, as malignant fevers, abcesses, dysentary, distributed, as malignant fevers, abcesses, dysentary, distributed, as malignant fevers, abcesses, dysentary, distributed their presence in the system by this alarming symptom. Not unfrequently the diseases mamed originate in constitution, but take on an independent existence unless the cause is cradicated in an early stage. From these considerations it follows that the disorder should receive immediate attention whenever it occurs, and no person should neglect to get a box of Cephalic Fills on the first appearance of the complaint, as their timely, use will expel the insiduous approaches of disease and destroy this dangerous for to human life.
